Calculating Mixed Volume by Finding Mixed Cells

T. Y. Li

Department of Mathematics
Michigan State University
E. Lansing, MI 48824
U.S.A.

Finding mixed cells induced by a generic lifting of the support of a polynomial system provides start systems of polyhedral homotopies for finding numerical solutions of the polynomial system. As a by-product, one obtains the mixed volume of the support of the system. In this talk, we will give the most up-dated version of our algorithm in finding all the mixed cells.